Turkey Traps/Hideouts

Right before Thanksgiving, Kindergarten, first and second grade students worked independently to build turkey traps or turkey hideouts (student's choice) using Keva planks. They were required to build a trap or hideout for at least one turkey, with the challenge being that the trap/hideout hold as many turkeys as possible and have a door or opening through which the turkeys could enter.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Jr./Sr. High

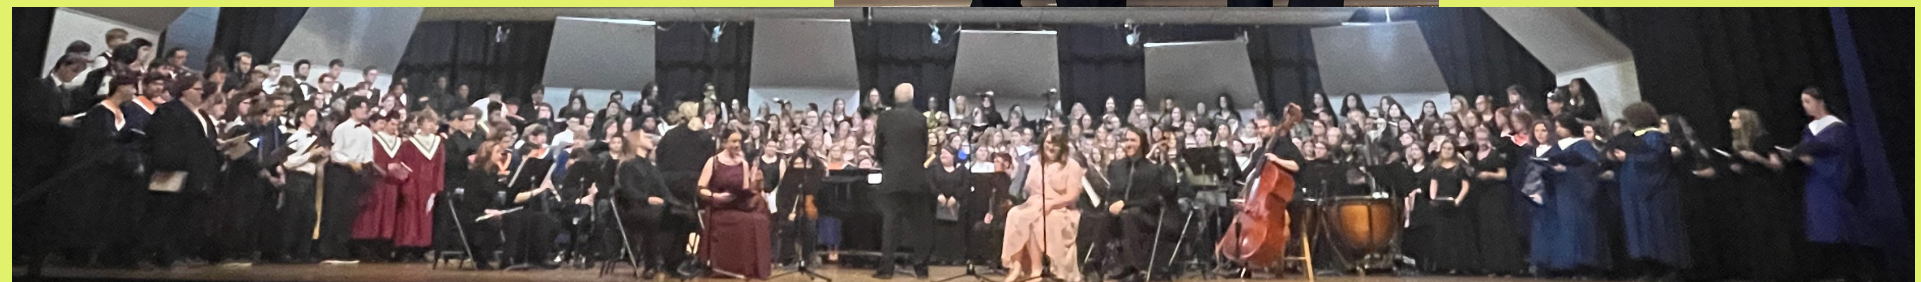

MSU Honor Choir

Two high school students, Aubree Beyer and Isaac Holder, were selected by audition to participate in the Murray State University High School Quad State Honor Choir. They traveled to Murray, Kentucky and spent about a day and a half in rehearsals, learning under the direction of collegiate professors and singing with students from the surrounding states. On the second evening, they performed a concert in the historic Lovett Auditorium. We are singing praises for these talented students!

Jr./Sr. High Band and Choir

Jr. and Sr. High band and choir members were selected to participate in a variety of honor ensembles that they traveled to and performed in during November. These are opportunities students had to audition and/or apply to and they got the chance to work with students and directors from different areas and learn difficult music to perform during a weekend. The students are Aubree Beyer (12) and Isaac Holder (10) for Murray State Quad State Honor Choir Festival, Shawnee LaMar (11) and Lee Patrick (11) for Southwest Indiana All-District Band at Vincennes University, and Oliver Hughes (8) and Riley Wildt (8) for Southwest Indiana All-Region Band at South Knox High School.
